

Certificate of Free Sale

Certificates of Free Sale are produced by RPA as a non-statutory service, at no charge, to accompany food products upon export.

The standard certificate gives assurances to importing countries that food products are:

"Free from harmful levels of radioactive material and may be sold in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. If the law requires food to be fit for human consumption, it is fit for human consumption."

At present, Certificates of Free Sale are mainly required by certain non-EU countries, particularly those in the Middle East.

Note: Potential exporters must establish for themselves (through contacting the relevant country's authorities or embassy) what export conditions apply. RPA cannot advise on this.

The RPA issues Certificates of Free Sale for:

Soft drinks

Health food supplements
